

Finngulf 28, 2002

Finngulf 28 is a high-quality, modern small yacht designed by renowned boat designer Kamu Stråhlmann. It offers very pleasant, stable, and high-performance sailing characteristics, while also providing comfort for living aboard. There is room for a larger crew, but it is also designed for effortless single-handed sailing.

The aft cabin and toilet are fitted with doors, and four adults can sleep on the boat comfortably. The galley is exceptionally well-equipped for a boat of this size, and the navigation table provides excellent facilities for chart work. The overall ambiance in the cabin is very cozy.

The boat was repainted in 2019. It has been kept in good condition in every way and updated over the years. The sail inventory is extensive and in good condition; in addition to the standard sails, there is also a spinnaker with a sock, an asymmetrical spinnaker with a sock, and a Code 0. For added comfort in the harbor, the cockpit is equipped with a canopy, and for winter storage, the boat comes with a sturdy cradle and tarp frame.
