

FINNGULF 41 YEAR 2006

Finngulf 41 is a high-quality performance cruiser designed by Karl-Johan Stråhlmann and built by a Finnish boatyard Finngulf Yachts. It combines comfort, speed, seaworthiness and quality Finnish craftsmanship.

She is in superior condition and all the annual services and maintenance have been done meticulously. She has had one owner since new and all the service history has been documented.

Finngulf 41 is designed with high-performance sailing and unforgettable experiences in mind, whether the crew consists of eager sail racers or family crew. All the halyards and sheets are led to the cockpit making maneuvering easy for the crew. Despite Finngulf 41's focus on good sailing performance, it also offers a comfortable interior with three cabins, one head with shower and an open saloon with an L-shaped galley. The boat is also equipped with high-end upholstery.
