Elan 384 Impression, 2007

Elan 384 Impression is a modern family yacht designed with particular attention to functional details. In addition to excellent cruising capabilities, it offers outstanding comfort and livability. This boat has been privately owned and carefully maintained. During the winters, it has been stored in a heated hall.

Elan is stable and easy to handle, making it suitable even for less experienced sailors. In its size category, it offers a well-balanced combination of user-friendliness and enjoyable cruising performance. The spacious cockpit has been designed not only for comfortable sailing but also for relaxing at anchor, and in good weather it works perfectly as an extension of the interior.

The interior features headroom of over two meters in places, and plenty of windows make the living spaces bright and airy. Two aft cabins and a forward cabin comfortably accommodate even two families. The generously sized bathroom also has space for hanging wet gear to dry. The galley is well-equipped with ample work surfaces.
