FINNSAILER 34 -87
The Finnsailer 34 is a classic Finnish centre-cockpit cruising yacht designed by renowned naval architect Hans Groop. This 1987 example has had only two private owners and has been carefully maintained, including heated indoor winter storage for at least the past 15 years and annual professional engine servicing. With her sheltered centre cockpit, separate aft cabin and spacious interior, she offers comfortable and practical cruising. The underwater hull was renewed in 2025.
